RE: FDA Docket No. 02N-0209

Dear Commissioner,

As a person who adheres to the principles contained in the American Bill of Rights, I urge the FDA to abide by the directions of the United States Courts and stop the practice of preventing the dissemination of truthful information about dietary supplements and other products, or services with health benefits to the public.

I further urge the FDA to adopt regulations that permit dissemination of all health information, or emerging health information, on product labels. Furthermore, I exhort the FDA to not tolerate the persecution of individuals who seek to advance the cause of Alternative Medicine by informing the public about the benefits and risks of products that affect the health of individuals.

Sincerely,
Patricia Simmons
