Dear Commissioner - April '99

Like many Americans I am very concerned about the safety of the food I choose to eat. I believe it is my right as a consumer to know if the food I am eating has been genetically altered. Such foods pose unknown risks to the family farmer; the environment and to my health & the health of my family.

'99 MAY -5 P1:51

In May, a lawsuit was filed challenging the FDA's policy not to require labels on transgenic foods -

I am writing in support of the demands of this lawsuit for safety testing and complete & prominent labels -

Consumers should not be made unknowing guinea pigs in the industry's experiments with potentially dangerous foods. I am eager to hear that the FDA is living up to its mandate to protect public health and will provide consumers with the information we need about the food we eat -

The only reason Monsanto doesn't want labeling is because they know we consumers would not buy the stuff!

Monsanto is the only one who will benefit from these dangerous experiments.

Farmers, consumers and the environment are the ones who will suffer!

Sincerely -
