Dear Mr. Glickman,

I recently learned about the production, use of, and lack of regulations and controls on genetically engineered foods. I am very concerned about the potential threats to my health that genetically engineered foods cause and my inability to know when I am consuming genetically engineered foods. I am asking that you take action to inform the public about genetically engineered foods, test genetically engineered foods, ban genetically engineered foods that are known to be harmful and require that genetically engineered foods be labeled as such. I am also asking that you inform me as to what actions you are taking in this matter.

Sincerely, George Fox
