Good afternoon –

FDA expects to post inspection metrics for the BIMO Program on the same page as it has in the past. These metrics are still being compiled for FY 2017. Please continue to visit the website for updates: https://www.fda.gov/ScienceResearch/SpecialTopics/RunningClinicalTrials/ucm261409.htm

Kind regards,

Subject: BIMO Inspection Metrics FY2017

Dear

I am interested to know whether the FDA will no longer publish the BIMO Inspection Metrics per year as we used to see (with slides and a summary of inspectional observations per inspection type in .pdf files or equivalent format).

The reason for my question is that currently, what is available FY 2017 in the FDA website is an excel table with the citations in FDA 483 forms and a list of firms inspected. Is this the new format the BIMO data will be presented by the FDA.

With my sincere appreciation for your support.
