Dear commissioner Henry:

New studies regarding Genetically Engineered Foods really concern me. These foods create risks to the public's health of allergic reactions, antibiotic resistance, and dietary risks. We have unknowingly eaten some of these Genetically Engineered foods. These foods should be thoroughly tested and labeled and they should not be placed on a G.R.A.S. list. The G.E. foods are a threat to the environment as well as being a threat to organic crops thru genetic drift. There should be pre-market testing on all G.E. foods.

Sincerely,

Jeanne B Breimer
