References

1. Carruthers SG: Adverse effects of α_1 - adrenergic bloking drugs. Drug Saf 11 (I): 12-20.

2. DiBianco R, Parker JO, Chakko S, Transer PH, Emmanuel G, Singh JB, Marlone A: Doxazosin for the treatment of chronic congestive heart failure: results of a randomized double-blind and placebo-controlled study. Am Heart J 121: 372-80, Jan 1991.

3. Frishman WH, Kotob F: Alpha-adrenergic blocking drugs in clinical medicin. J Clin Pharmacol 39: 7-16, 1999.

4. Kalman J, Buchholz C, Chockalingam S, Kukin ML: Does combined alpha and β blockade anhance hemodynamic benefits beyond beta blockade alone in congestive heart failure: [abstract no. 0547]. American Heart Association 66th Scientific Sessions, Atlanta, Ga., 8-11, Nov 1993. Circulation 88 (4 Pt 2): I-104, Oct 1993.

5. Kutkin ML, Kalman J, Mannino M, Freudenberger R, Buchholz C, Ocampo O: Combined alpha-beta blockade (doxazosin plus metoprolol) compared with beta blockade alone in chronic-congestive heart failure. Am J Cardio 77 (7): 486-91, 1 Mar 1996.

6. Martinez-Castelao A, Hueso M, Sanz V, Rejas J, Alsina J, Grinyo JM: Treatment of hypertension after renal transplantation: long-term efficacy of verapamil, enalapril, and doxazosin. Kindney Int 54 (Suppl 68): S130-S134, 1998.

7. Stokke HP, Fauchald P, Holme I, Rugstad HE, Christophersen BO, Stokke O: Doxazosin (Carduran) --- a research syrvey. Tidsskr Nor Laegeforen 113 (6): 693-9, 28 Feb 1993.