Dear Commissioner Henney,

As a milk-and-dairy-products consumer, I am constantly trying to determine which products contain rBGH so that I may avoid them. I do this for the following 3 reasons: 1. The steroids are unnecessarily harsh on animals; cows produce a certain amount of milk and it cannot be a positive thing for them to be forced to produce more. 2. Studies in Canada have linked consumption of the hormone to cancer. 3. Milk prices are already low. Common sense says that artificially high milk production will not help this. I believe that I have the right to an informed choice of dairy products. Please do your best to ensure that I have that choice. Maura LeBaron
