Dear Ms. Dr. Henney, 15 December 1999

Km

I am writing to encourage you to take lead and urge the Food and Drug Administration to move immediately to ban animal uses of growth-promoting antibiotics used in human medicine. The CDC (Center for Disease Control) in Atlanta supports the European Union's decision to do so, as it is based on sound science.

I realize pharmaceutical and agribusiness interests are at stake, and it is time for our government to reflect the needs and protect its own people rather than commercial interests. Lead the way Dr. Henney! There will be public support!!

Thank you,
Amanda Allen
