To whom it may concern,

I am just one voice in the many. Lately I've found out, after years of cutting certain of my favorite foods out of my diet, the overall destructive ingredient for me, is that to be "free glutamate", which is deceptively hidden in many other food additives.

I don't know for sure if the food manufacturers &/or the FDA people truly know how destructive "free glutamates" are or if there is some conspiracy going on to mess folks up. & I don't know who or what is responsible for this massive blunder, intentional or not.

It is time to correct this by eliminating "free glutamines" out of our food supply as much & as soon as possible. Thank you

Sincerely,

Mark J. Vance
