Dear Dr. Henry 9-22-2000

"fact" has had a major impact on efforts by government agencies to start controlling SE. Of two scathing report issued by the GAO in 1999 we are still awaiting the testing of pathogens on factory farms. In humane practices like factory farming of all animals and forced molting of chickens just increases the "need" to use medications, esp. antibiotics to make these practices [illegible]. Considering the medical cost to humans and that "Wall" where antibiotics of all sorts are no longer effective for man or beast", it is time to bite the bullets of lobbying of industries in food production.

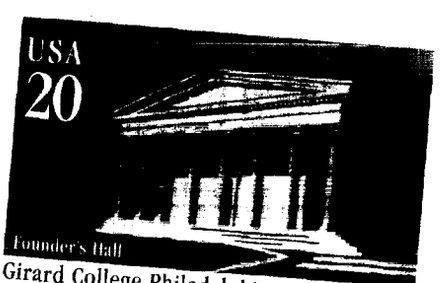
S.A. Tatsumi R.Ph

2803 00 OCT 18 P1:51

99P-0485

C 2623

MS SARA ANN TATSUMI
8244 PEACH LN
FOGELSVILLE PA 18051-1518



Girard College Philadelphia, PA 1848-1998

Jane Henney, M.D.
Commissioner, Food & Drug Admin.
5600 Fisher Lane,
Rockville, M.D.
20857

©1997 USPS recycled