Surgeon General USA
Washington D.C.

FDA
Nec
Act, 7 Jan 01

Dear Sir

It recently was revealed to me that Some Jack ass in the agriculture Dept. approved A policy of turning America's Livestock into Cannibles. Talk about a Vector For the Spread of Disease!! Well Now there is Mad Cow disease Caused by Prions (?? Spelling). It appears that these Prions do not Break down until after a temperature of 600°F. Surely Because of this insane practice of Making Livestock into Cannibles many animals are going to die, and Some People too.

I hypothesise that Mad Cow disease was always Present in England with a few incidents here and there for thousands of years Since Man began eating Beef. It only grew Because of the Practice of making animals into Cannibles by Using Slautered animal Residue in the Same animal Feed, it is not otherwise ~~[illegible]~~ infectious & cuptal also to anyone who Ate that meat. I formerly was Very rare. (???)

C3688

98P-0151

Here is one for you: Alzheimer's Disease is supposed to be caused by Prions. Could Alzheimer's disease come From Symptomless animal Meats?

I don't want to alarm anyone; But surely (1) No man has the right to make a decision to Jeopardize the Lives of millions of people as well as animals without informing the people of that decision, and of giving them all the facts — except in an Emergency Like a General in a war. (2) Surely anyone who knows anything about the spread of disease would be appalled at the idea of making ~~the~~ Animal Livestock that we depend upon for life into Cannibals. It was Insane. Which? to save a few dollars? Insane!! The Danger far outweighs any conceivable Benefit.

Yours Sincerely

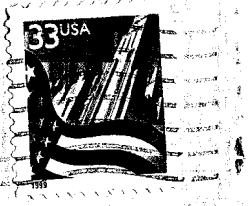
Guy Lee Brown

18 22 Dryden Rd #6

Freeville, N.Y. 13068.

2001 JAN 11 P 2:46

Gerald Lee Brown
1822 Dryden Rd. #6
Freeville, N.Y. 13068



Office of the Surgeon General
Surgeon General of U.S.A.
Washington, D.C.

20000/9999