Jeffe,

I idea of forced molting of layer hens must have come from some kind of sub-human MONSTER! Are chickens worth that much to you? A chicken would rather be dead [illegible] for weeks just so the molting would be over & so lay more eggs. What, what kind of friends are my taxes paying for? Oh, if only humans could share the same fate! But for some innocent creatures go thru that, the thought is so painful.
