I have been very satisfied with the "ready to wear" hearing aids and I've found the service to be very satisfying, also.

I have had both "ready to wear" hearing aids & medical tested aids. The ready to wear aids are very convenient & practical, especially when one has to send in to have their aids repaired & has to go without hearing for a month or more.

As long as the prices of aids are getting to cost more every year, more & more people cannot afford to have this luxury. I, also, found "ready to wear" eye glasses very convenient & handy to be able to buy. Ready to eat food is ready, too.

Why not let the right for people to have their right to choose.

Thank you for your time in re-considering this.

Sincerely,
Esse Grall
