Dear Ms. Henney:

I am outraged that genetically engineered food is being sold without our knowledge and consent. I am strongly opposed to the process of genetic engineering of food products. As I have been a strict vegetarian for over 27 years due to religious convictions I am appalled that unknowingly I may have consumed animal cells, tissues, genes or whatever else you may put into vegetables and soy beans. You are denying me my constitutional right to freedom of religion. I believe the whole process is unnatural and dangerous to all Americans.

I believe it should be stopped.
At the very least all food products should be labeled.
How dare you totally disregard the rights of fellow American vegetarians by putting into our food the animal essence that our whole way of life has been meticulously avoiding.
This is a casual disregard of peoples rights, environmental safety and health concerns.

That American business, and the greed that ~~it~~ motivates it, engages in. It is appalling. and should be stopped. Europe is right to not buy our food projects. I am grateful they have taken this stand in the hopes that we will stop this practice.

At least LABEL IT, so my freedom of religion is protected.

Sincerely

Terry Anne Barman
