RE: Docket # 98P-0151/CP1

Dear Maams & Sirs:

I am taking time out of my Sunday afternoon to write you regarding the Doomed animal trade.

00 NOV 22 P2:

It is amazing to me as a member of the human species, that our species can be so psychologically & intellectually bankrupt.

From a psychological standpoint, the lack of humanity on humanities part is egregious. To care so little about the lives of other species that share this planet with us is pathetic & disgusting.

From an intellectual standpoint: feeding humans unclean, bacteria-laden carcasses will not produce healthy humans.

I am disgusted by the behavior and lack of legal ramifications on the part of this democracy to ensure a clean, viable planet for all of the diverse species who inhabit this planet to live on.

Apparently the only thing on this planet that's not evolving is the human brain.

Sincerely,
Ellen Allen
