Jane Henney –

I am concerned about the lack of regulation and labeling of genetically-engineered foods. We do not have any idea how these products may affect our health. Consumers have a right to know what they are putting into their bodies.

Please work for the FDA to require that:

– no new GE foods or products with GE ingredients be released until the FDA requires long-term safety testing before they go to market.

– All GE foods on the market now, ~~[illegible]~~ be labeled, giving consumers the right to know what is in their food. →
