Dear Commissioner Friedman,

We are writing this letter to demand that you, as the head of the FDA, stop requiring cruel and outdated animal tests for pharmaceuticals. Instead, you should allow companies to substitute in vitro tests for the safety of both humans and animals.

Each year, thousands of animals die needlessly for "research". You can put an end to this suffering by taking swift action as outlined → above.

We would appreciate a written response to this letter.

Sincerely,

Patricia & David Krayeski
