To whom it may concern.

I am opposed to your G.E. stand. I would like to see all genetically engineered foods labeled and more pre market safety testing. Give the consumer a choice. I have a college degree in agriculture and have started a small certified organic farm and think you are just hurting the environment and the health of Americans and the eventual decline of the American farmer. I would also like to see the beef industry label all U.S. produced beef. Follow the Europeans and help promote sustainable agriculture and safer food without G.E., antibiotics, hormones and pesticide and chemical use. The green revolution didn't solve the worlds hunger problems and bio-technology won't either but just put more money into large corporations pocketbooks Thankyou
