Cov 216

Dear FDA - USDA's animal & plant Health Inspection Service,

Many egg factories have been mistreating the hens they are suppose to be caring properly for. The hens loose extensive amounts of weight, they loose feathers, and are deranged by fear. They are mostly starved and as a result they end up stuffed or dead. Please can you try to do something about this. You have the power to make it stop so please do something about it and save the hens.

Signed,
Jessica Sinaly
