Dear Lyle Jaffe,

I am writing to ask you to support the petition to ban the forced molting of layer hens.

Research shows that forced molting is a major cause of salmonella poisoning in eggs. The process of forced molting is also extremely cruel! To leave them in the dark for weeks and give them no food or water is more than cruel. It would be illegal to do to a family pet - yet the Food and Drug Administration allows this to happen to chicken.

Please do your part in making the egg and chicken industry safer and more humane.

Thank you for your immediate attention.
