Dear Lyle Jaffee:

This treatment of molting hens by starvation is one of the cruelest horrendous acts of human misunderstanding & judgement that I have ever heard of. Can't you think of something better to enlighten humanity & feed them nourishment other than squeezing out a few more eggs from a pitifully starved creature? Where have your values gone?

Why don't you & your friends starve for 8 weeks? Get a grip!! Eggs are not the only source of protein available. Actually there are some much better ones. Besides they are too high in cholesterol to be eaten with frequency.

Please learn to love all of God's creatures!

Sincerely, Hope Master
