4/13/99

Dr Sundlof

It is quite amazing to me that in spite of knowing for many yrs (30+?) the risks of casual antibiotic use in humans that it is still permissible to use them for growth promotion in farm animals. I know it's a complex area - (as is every question) - but it still makes me ask: What are we - stupid?

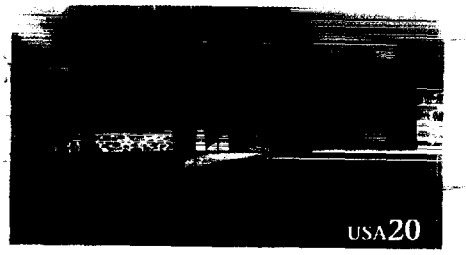
Please help us get smart about this.

Sincerely
Elefort

99P-0485

c 65

[redacted]



Dr Stephen Sundlof
c/o FDA Center for Vet Medicine
7500 Standish Place