Dear Ms Henney,

Everyone by now has heard about the fact that "overuse" of antibiotics renders them useless More + More these antibiotics are not helping people fight diseases - Why? Because the bacteria become resistant to the antibiotic.

Therefore its imperative to put a stop to feeding animals (our meat source) antibiotics to keep them healthy.

Animals must be allowed to live freely on open land not caged up in pens. That is not only inhumane treatment of these poor animals but its the reason for the necessity of antibiotics. "Caged up" animals get diseases.
