To the FDA:

I am writing to you as an informed and concerned consumer, to demand that all irradiated foods be labelled as such, with the use of the radura symbol. Products in our stores are always carefully labelled, and this should be no exception. Irradiation may produce changes in vitamin and nutrient content, as well as texture and taste, so the absence of labelling would be misleading. Please maintain high labelling standards, and inform us as to exact content of our foods.

Thank You - Sincerely,

Ms. Diane Miller
