I further request that you ban the use of antibiotics in animal feed. Given the fact that bacteria are increasingly more resistant to antibiotics in use currently - human beings are at greater risk for life threatening bacterial infections that MD's cannot attack successfully.

Commissioner Henney,

Please insure that irradiated meats can be easily identified by clear disclosures on their outer packaging so that consumers can avoid them if desired. I have serious concerns that the benefits will be outweighed by the short and long term hazards inherent in their use. Thank you.
