Dear President Clinton,

I am concerned about genetically engineered foods entering the market place without being labelled. I could be eating them without knowing it! I would like to insist that a law be passed requiring the manufacturers to label genetically engineered foods, whether in whole form or as an ingredient in processed foods.

The FDA is presently allowing genetically engineered foods to enter the market even though public opinion wants these products labelled. (Time magazine poll 1/11/99 showed 81% want labelling)

Help the public maintain the right to choose / to make informed decisions by requiring labelling.

please respond.
