Dear FDA;

We have written before, along with many thousands of others, to ask that you keep in place true organic standards for foods labelled organic. Now the question of irradiation is uppermost in our minds. We are concerned both with the health and safety of the workers involved, as well as the toxins and loss of nutriments.

If you persist in allowing irradiation, at least label ALL foods as to what has been done to them. The FDA owes it to the public for truth in labelling!

Sincerely,

G Forest + Sarah Rock
