Re: Docket #98N-1038

Dear Mr. Hubbard:

I am extremely concerned about proposals to weaken or eliminate labeling requirements on irradiated foods. Any irradiated foods, or any foods containing irradiated ingredients, should be clearly and plainly labeled, both with text such as "treated with radiation," and with a radiation symbol. Consumers have a right to know whether their food is being irradiated. If the FDA does not safeguard this right, I will work to see that the Congress does.

Respectfully yours
