Dear Jane Henney,

I am writing to you because I am terrified about the issue of genetically altered and engineered food. I'd like to ask that this be stopped, but truly, I don't have enough information for that yet. What I will ask is that you make mandatory clear labels for these products. Consumers should be able to make informed choices regarding what they eat.

I would like to hear from you regarding whatever steps you are taking on this issue of mandatory labeling.

Thank you,
