Sirs:

First of all it is a crime that something like food, be it meat or any other kind of food) is so spoiled that it has to have a lot of poison, chemicals, or whatever, put on it to disguise the fact that it is spoiled; but to turn around + sell that food to the public! You people couldn't care less for the ones you sell it to - let 'em die.

You know people have become sick; some have even died from the lack of your caring; but that doesn't bother you any - just so the money comes in.

I am also apalled that the Government allows this to happen in this country.

My goodness!! I wonder how the Indians + the pilgrims got by without all of those poisons etc.

I am not a cynical person; but I certainly am disgusted to think that you care so little for people + that you are more than willing to use those chemicals on them - also what you are doing to the cows. A cow is designed to carry only so much milk + you break down her system + health when you force her to give more than she's supposed to.

With all of your education ?? I wonder if it all went in one ear & out the other. Even a child knows better than to do the things you do.

You should be ashamed of not using the brains God gave you

Its a good thing for 'you' that I don't have anything to say - lawfully - about punishment for these kinds of actions.
I'm not alone in my feelings - most people totally agree with me. I would dearly love to pull you people out of your Offices & make you go to work, something you more than likely are not familiar with.
