Dear Dr. Friedman:

The Presidential Primary Campaigns are picking up momentum. Though I cannot speak directly with the candidates, I would like to express my views on a topic which should be addressed. I encourage you and your colleagues to address this issue with moral discernment, considering those who have no vote and are essentially voice-less (e.g. children). Courage to our Presidential candidates who heed those quiet voices.

Genetically Engineered Food:
Since rBGH affects humans, it should be banned. It appears that infants and children are the most vulnerable.

I look forward to hearing from you regarding this issue.

Sincerely,
Kate Campion
