Re: Dockets Nos- 98N-1230, 96P-0418, 97P-0197

Dear Sir or Madam:

In response to FDA's request for public comments regarding the above Docket No's, I am against forced molting of hens.

Forced molting has scientifically been proven that ~~forced m~~ it destroys the starving hen's immune system.

The FDA should ban forced molting of laying hens because is one of the most primary causes of infectious diseases in eggs, hens & consumers, that ultimately injure human health.

The FDA needs to do more than regulating eggs refrigeration temperatures & putting warning labels on egg cartons.

Since the FDA has jurisdiction to ban farming practices, I urge you to ban forced molting of laying hens for the above mentioned reasons & because its very inhumane!

Thank you
