Dear Sirs,

Re: 98N-1230/96P-0418/97P-0197

I feel the FDA should ban the forced molting of laying hens, as this is a primary cause of infectious diseases in hens, & therefore the consumers of eggs. Using warning labels on egg cartons, & the regulation of egg refrigeration temperatures is not enough. Improving human health is enough of a reason to ban this practice. The April 1998 petition to do so should be granted without further delay.

Thank you.

Sincerely,
Gloria Mack
