Dear FDA personnel,

As an individual who rescues birds I know how sensitive they are to the experience of pain, hunger and other privations. As an agency dedicated to protecting human health you know the link between forced molting of chickens and infectious disease in humans. Just knowing that millions of birds are starved every year, I cannot see how you can continue to allow this process.

You were petitioned to ban forced molting in April 1999 - grant that petition NOW before you are responsible for more deaths.

Sincerely,

C 219
