Dear Commissioner,

I want to urge the FDA to establish a "Daily Reference Guide" for added sugar of 40 grams and to require labels to disclose how much added sugar a food contains.

As an admirer of Dr. Kessler and his efforts on behalf of the general public, I hope you will be as fearless as he was in putting our health before the desires of Congress who can lose track of what is best for the country as a whole.

I have been a member of CSPI for many years, as well as a person who has benefited from the FDA's efforts to inform me about the contents of foods.
