Dear Sam

I totally support the movement against G.M. food, I definitely want labeling and further testing to be done. I am a vegatarian, and it disgusts me that the FDA feels that adding animal DNA to plant foods isn't a significant reason to label such products. I want to know exactly which fruits and vegatables have animal DNA in them. I don't want the FDA or anyone else deciding for me what goes into my body, especially without my knowledge.
