Dear Jane Henney, M.D.

I am in favor of the FDA approving claims filed for Saw palmetto and the symptoms of benign prostatic hyperplasia; My husband has used this and was greatly helped; I also favor psyllium husk seeds and the risk of heart disease; folic acid, vitamin B6 and vitamin B12 and cardiovascular disease; and vitamin E and the risk of cardiovascular. I have had a heart problem from childhood and 3 years ago I had heart by-pass surgery. I take the above mentioned vitamins and have improved very much as well as my husband taking them. We can tell a big difference when we leave them off. I know they really help both of us.

Sincerely

Dorothy Vanderbilt
