Dear Ms Henney,

I'm writing to you today to demand that engineered food be at the very least labeled! Day by day I see more and more of this evil be passed off as health food, would you honestly say that eating a tomatoe spiked with say, flounder genes is "good" you. And what about the long term effects. Do you and yours relish the thought of eating bug genes? Honestly I ask why? Why do you let it happen in a "free" country let freedom ring.

Honestly True
