Re: Food Irradiation labels '99 SEP -9 A11:01
Docket #98N-1038

Labeling of all foods that are blasted with radiation cobalt-60, caesium-137, electron beams and x-rays or any other like means should clearly be labeled with the "Radura" ~~signal~~ symbol to give consumers a choice of what they want to eat. Instead of using irradiation methods on foods, your agency and the USDA should develope strictor standards for meat processing and sanitation. There are too many health risks associated with radiation in the first place.
