To Whom It May Concern: 11/15/1999

I am personally calling for a ban on the practice of forced molting as it is an unconscionable, unreasonable and therefore essentially worthless practice. As a free-lance consumer activist with a success rate of 80% conservatively (and to this I will add that I am not professionally affiliated) If the FDA/HSUS are in any way involved (and forgive me if I have my chicken wires crossed) I plan to notify retail managers throughout my national territory and consumers the like via literature posted ON SITE at supermarkets and other venues.

I will beat the planning-board meeting (God-willing) of the relocation effort of a major supplier and I plan to make this public knowledge. Senitha

I will have no choice in the action I describe

Non-compliance with my request for your position seems synonymous with support of this inhumane procedure.
