Dear Ms. Shalala,

I am writing to express my concern about the possible weakening of labeling requirements for irradiated food that is being considered by the FDA. I strongly believe that it is my right to know if the food I eat has been treated with radiation.

Labels are required by law to be truthful & not misleading to the customer. Only clear, honest & permanent labeling is acceptable for irradiated foods.

I also feel that more testing should be done before companies start genetically altering our food supply.

Yours truly,
