Gentlemen:

re: genetic engineering of food

I want to strongly object to the addition of antibiotics to animal feed, and to the genetic changes made in seed. I agree with Europe's rejection of these. I don't want to eat these products, or have my children + grandchildren eat them. They're not even labeled in the supermarket, so I cannot even avoid them. The least you can do is label them. Then you'll see that most people agree with me.

Yours truly,
Roslyn Dayan
