Dear Secretary Shalala

I am writing to voice my concern about possible weakening of label requirements for irradiated food that the FDA is considering. It is my right to know if the food I serve my family has been treated with radiation. And it needs to be CLEARLY - not hidden or worded otherwise - that it has been treated this way.

77% of Americans don't want to buy food treated by this process. Our govt. has the role to protect us consumers - not aid the meat, fruit & veg. industries to try to trick us with other than plain English or the word "radiation". Please help defend our - & your - right to know! →

Let's clean up slaughter houses & slow down processing lines.
Let's get more federal meat inspectors & encourage local agriculture instead of factory farming.

Thank you for reading my letter -
