Text of side Panel: Scientific research has revealed the outstanding benefits of Phosphatidylcholine (PC) as a nutritional supplement. This versatile phospholipid is now recognized for its advantages to liver function as well as a nutrient essential to brain function. PC may also maintain healthy cholesterol levels and has been used to enhance memory and concentration.* Lucas Meyer, Inc. produces Leci-PC®, which has one of the highest levels of PC available in a nutritional supplement. This PC is derived from soy, making it a completely natural substance. Phosphatidylcholine is a superb daily addition to the diet of anyone seeking safe nutritional support for healthy liver function.
