Literature:
The following articles are provided as a representative sample of relevant literature on the device types you will be discussing at the panel meeting as well as literature on the general concept of dynamic stabilization of the lumbar spine:

