

Dear Commissioner Kessler:

I hereby request that the FDA withhold its approval of Bovine Growth Hormone (BGH). I am alarmed by the consequences of consuming genetically engineered hormones. Additionally, BGH-treated cows suffer from increased stress and disease. This, in turn, leads to the increased use of antibiotics and other drugs which are passed on to consumers.

If the FDA ignores public concern by approving BGH, I demand that dairy products from BGH-treated cows be labeled as such. I will then avoid purchasing such products.
