Dear Ms. Henney;

It has come to my attention that an effort is being made to force people to see an audiologist or doctor in order to obtain a hearing aid.

Please do not succumb to this attempt at taking yet another freedom from citizens such as myself who have very limited resources. I prefer to and am quite capable of choosing how and where I spend what money the government lets me keep,. Please be assured that I am and most citizens are not as stupid as some people would want you to think, especially if it means more money in their pockets. We can think, make rational decisions and accept responsibility for those decisions.

This is an infringement on our constitutional right to choose the services of medical "professionals".

Sincerely,

Jim Perry
