

Attention FDA

0166 '00 MAY -4 A10:32

It came to my attention that the FDA is being asked to take away my right to sign a medical waiver before purchasing a hearing aid. Instead I would be forced to have a medical exam or hearing test. Here's my views and/or experiences on several related questions?

1. Should I be forced to have a medical exam and/or hearing test before purchasing a hearing aid? If so, should the FDA pay for the exam?

If I should be forced to do so, then FDA should pay for it.

2. Some people are physically unable to drive to a doctor or hearing specialist, or have had bad experiences they don't want to repeat. For instance ...

Walk with a cane and need someone not only to drive me (don't drive in city) but need them to accompany me to doctor - People busy - CAN'T Drop everything to take me

3. Should the FDA take away my Constitutional Right, affirmed by the Supreme Court, to decide for myself my medical exams and treatment?

No - Government is too involved in making decisions relative to our health, and many other areas as well.

4. Should I be allowed to purchase hearing aids by mail as I choose?

yes!
