

Attention FDA

It came to my attention that the FDA is being asked to take away my right to sign a medical waiver before purchasing a hearing aid. Instead I would be forced to have a medical exam or hearing test. Here's my views and/or experiences on several related questions?

1. Should I be forced to have a medical exam and/or hearing test before purchasing a hearing aid? If so, should the FDA pay for the exam?

I should not be forced to have a medical exam

2. Some people are physically unable to drive to a doctor or hearing specialist, or have had bad experiences they don't want to repeat. For instance ...

3. Should the FDA take away my Constitutional Right, affirmed by the Supreme Court, to decide for myself my medical exams and treatment?

4. Should I be allowed to purchase hearing aids by mail as I choose?

I should certainly be allowed to purchase my hearing aids by mail it is my money and my ears. I should have the right to decide.

To whom it may concern
I Albert W. Collins am well satisfied with my hearing aid products by mail. I had a hearing aid specialist once and he told me there was not much
could be done for my hearing.
I have ordered two hearing aids
from Excel and they have worked great. I would surely like to test hearing products as I wish

Sincerely
