

Attention FDA

0080 '00 MAY -4 10:21

It came to my attention that the FDA is being asked to take away my right to sign a medical waiver before purchasing a hearing aid. Instead I would be forced to have a medical exam or hearing test. Here's my views and/or experiences on several related questions?

1. Should I be forced to have a medical exam and/or hearing test before purchasing a hearing aid? If so, should the FDA pay for the exam?

I strongly feel that I should NOT

But if so then yes the FDA should pay

2. Some people are physically unable to drive to a doctor or hearing specialist, or have had bad experiences they don't want to repeat. For instance ...

Having a doctor run tests and then say there is nothing they can do. And then say but they can fit you fancy hearing aids for 1500 ~~or~~ dollars + up price!

3. Should the FDA take away my Constitutional Right, affirmed by the Supreme Court, to decide for myself my medical exams and treatment?

NO! To many of you folks in Washington apparently have nothing to do. So you want to think for the rest of us.

4. Should I be allowed to purchase hearing aids by mail as I choose?

Yes!
